

SNEHANGSHU KANTA ACHARYA (September 1913 –1986) followed up his education at the College with a degree in law. From an early age he was drawn towards India's freedom struggle and the socialism. Since independence he received the First Order of Merit of Syria in 1957 and led several delegations to Europe, Asia and Africa. He served as the Advocate General of West Bengal in two terms from 1969 to 1970 and 1977 to 1986.